

MORNING APPEAL

SUNDAY.....FEBRUARY 17

A SHAMEFUL EXHIBIT.

Last Fall, every newspaper in the State of Nevada, except the Genoa Probationist was in favor of the Lottery Amendment No. 22.

We challenge a single exception to this rule.

They were committed wholly and unequivocally to the measure and urged it in behalf of the State, that contributed so much every year to the Louisiana Lottery Company. It was urged as a measure of public good and self protection.

When the Legislature convened, they sat quietly on their haunches, waiting for the Lottery Company's sack. It did not come—and that is where the managers of the Company were short sighted—and then a low murmur of morality began to go up, not at all loud, just a smothered whisper which was a hint to the company to come round.

It did not however and the whispering and mutterings grew louder and louder as the writers on this great moral question anxiously scanned the horizon for signs of the coming sack.

Then some of them interviewed the promoters of the scheme, and we know just what we are talking about when we make this statement, demanding coin for their services and the demand was refused. To some of these papers, the Company pledged itself to advertise liberally, but it refused all attempts to blackmail, and this position, proper but impolitic, lost the fight. We would advise all these venal, time-serving, fence-trading journals to get together some day, and effect a permanent organization.

We should say that the Reno Gazette which danced a hornpipe on the defeated amendment, two days after the returns were all in, would be entitled to the Presidency of the organization, and the Elko Independent which supported it last Fall, ought by all rules governing such cases, to be awarded by acclamation, the Chairmanship of the Committee on Credentials.

The whole affair is a most shameless exhibit of the mendacity of a portion of the Nevada press which has given out to the Coast that it must be "seen" when any enterprise is afloat in which it is not directly interested.

The press fostered and nourished the scheme with its support and approval until the time arrived when it seemed that the Company had reached a point where it ought to "come down" and then the howl of virtuous indignation went up like the wail of a pack of coyotes, baffled of a meal.

To any paper can showing a single line against the lottery scheme, published in its columns prior to January 1st., 1889 we retract our statement and present our humble apologies in advance.

THE QUESTION OF BULLDOZING.

The anti-lottery people are trying hard to show that the lottery people bulldozed the voters.

The bulldozing and trickery was the other way. An agent of the company who was electioneering in Austin on the eleventh, was accosted by several leading citizens, who asked him if he could guarantee that they could get several thousand shares of lottery stock at $5 a share if they carried the county for the amendment. He was unable to give the guarantee, and citizens who were on their way to the polls, were stopped by parties just outside the one hundred foot line, where they were ordered to show their ballots. They did so, and were informed that the lottery scheme was a "rotten swindle" a disgrace to the State, etc., and the anti-lottery tickets were placed in their hands, to vote.

Next day, the "good and morality" crowd, were strutting about the streets, and saying? "We'll teach these fellows how to start a lottery scheme, and not let us in."

If the lottery amendment were submitted to the people again, and a few leading citizens in each town allowed to subscribe for the stock, the frantic protests of the press, in favor of the Louisiana crowd, would not prevent it sweeping the State like a whirlwind.

In Virginia City, men who were solicited to vote for the lottery said. "You have got to give us more than we are getting on the other side."

Agents of the Louisiana concern, were on the Comstock on election day, using money to defeat the scheme.

—Assemblyman Thompson has introduced a bill that should become a law. It prohibits the Board of Examiners of the State, the County Commissioners of any county in the State, Boards of Trustees or Aldermen of any incorporated municipal or city Government, School Trustees or other Boards authorized to order the payment of public money, from any claim or demand against any public fund for permanent improvements or litigation purposes without due and specific authority of law. This is as it should be. Had such a law been on the statute books the Insane Asylum would not have a deficiency bill amounting to $13,000 or more for something that is of no practicable benefit to the State, to look after.—Gazette.
